Commercial Bank Announces New Board Member

ITHACA, Mich. — Commercial Bank and Commercial National Financial Corporation have welcomed a new member to the board of directors, Jeffrey Stahl. Stahl assumed his position on the board August 1, 2018.

“We are really excited about Jeff’s addition,” said Kevin Collison, President and CEO of Commercial Bank. “He is well-respected in the manufacturing industry and will bring a wealth of knowledge to the team.”

With 22 years of experience, Stahl serves as President and CEO of his privately-owned company, Jer-Den Plastics. Located in St. Louis, Michigan, Jer-Den Plastics designs, develops and manufactures rotationally molded plastic products for applications in various industries.

Stahl earned both his Bachelor of Science and Master’s in Business Administration from Central Michigan University.

A lifelong resident of central Michigan, Stahl looks forward to serving on the board of a bank dedicated to its communities. He and his wife, Audra currently reside in Alma and have two children, Alex and Maya.
